

Announcing

The 2021 MSR Scholarly Research Colloquium

Research Methodology with Purpose:
How spiritually grounded research generates community vitality and social impact

A Global Online Community Event
July 26th and 27th
(27/28 in Oceania and parts of Asia-Pacific)

In its 21st year, we're proud to offer this unique opportunity to connect with MSR's transdisciplinary network of management researchers, teachers and practitioners. Much more than a standard Research Colloquium, this event will convene a community of like minded individuals in the spirit of global consciousness through generous and inspiring dialogue as we share, explore and generate together.

COME PREPARED TO PARTICIPATE

This global online event offers 20+ sessions across a 36 hour time period.
You are invited to attend any / all sessions as your schedule and motivation allow.
There are currently over 250 registrants from more than 17 countries.

Click here to view the PROGRAM

Click here to REGISTER

Presenters Include:

Jerry Bieberman, University of Scranton (emeritus); Orneita Burton, Abilene Christian University; Aneel Chima, Stanford University; Tom Culham, Simon Fraser University; Vanessa Englert, VU Amsterdam; Richa Kathuria, Ambedkar University Delhi; Chris Laszlo, Case Western Reserve University; Xiaolan Li, Fetzer Institute; Richard Major, Groupe IGS, Exemplarity Management Solutions; Joan Marques, Woodbury University; Ian Mitroff, UC Berkeley; Judi Neal, Edgewalkers International; Deepa Patel, Center for Education Policy; Richard Peregoy, Satish & Yasmin Gupta College of Business University of Dallas; Dominic Richardson, UNICEF; Lee Robbins, Golden Gate University; Toyoko Sato, Copenhagen Business School; Michelle Scheidt, Fetzer Institute; Paul Schmidt, Living Energy Design; Jeff Snipes, Millennium School; Julia Storberg-Walker, George Washington University; Charles Tackney, Copenhagen Business School; Benito Teehankee, De La Salle University-Philippines; Chulguen (Charlie) Yang, Southern Connecticut State University; --- and others --

Thanks to our generous sponsors there is no fee to participate

